REGISTRATION PLACES BUSY HERE ALL DAY

Men and Women Crowd In to Qualify For Voting.

QUALIFY FOR LIFE

Registration Taking Place All Over Kentucky Today—Women Maintain Taxi Service.

Indications are that Middlesboro will have a record registration. The five city wards where registration is taking place have been crowded with men and women all day. While no definite figures could be obtained concerning the number which had registered today, it is safe to say that the largest number that has ever registered in one-half day had qualified for voting.

Middlesboro comes under the lifetime registration rule and those who register now will not have to go through the necessary formality for voting in subsequent years More detailed information is obtained from the registrant this year, it now being necessary to give duration of residence in the state, county and precinct, age height, weight, occupation and other personal information regarding those who register.

The League of Women Voters, which is maintaining headquarters at the home of Miss Lina Rennebaum, announces that a number of women have availed themselves of free transportation to the regsitration places today. The service will be maintained tomorrow, the last registration day, and women who wish to be taken to the registration places are requested to call either phone 76 for free taxi service.

Those who register now will not only avail themselves of the privilege of voting in the national and state elections this year, but also all coming city, county, state and national elections. By registering now, all men and women in this section will have the privilege of casting a vote for the bond issue which will come up in the general election

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 8 — Registration of voters in cities and towns of more than 5,000 population began today, under the new all-time registration law. The registration continues through tomorrow.

A supplemental registration will be held in these cities October 7 and 8. Voters in towns of less than 5,000 population register in October under the old law.

Judge Gus Thomas of the Court of Appeals recently held the new act constitutional, holding population as a basis for registration and the 1920 census or the last census as made by city ordinance since then as the method of obtaining the population of fourth class cities, which range from 5,000 to 8,000 population.

One registration is sufficient for a lifetime, unless the voter moves out of his or her precinct or county.

Hours of registration were fixed by the act at from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Qualification is briefly held:

"Every citizen of the United States, not otherwise disqualified by the laws fo this Commonwealth, who is 21 years of age, or who will become twenty-one on or before the next regular election to be held in November, who will have been a resident of the State of Kentucky one year, and of the county six months, and of the precinct in which he or she offers to vote sixty days next preceding such election and who has been registered as provided by this act," is entitled to vote.

The registrants today signed their names in the registration books which became permanent record. Name, sex, address, party affiliation, occupation, color or race, height, weight and other means of identification were recorded.

Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty recently ruled that employees of the federal and state government, in Washington and Frankfort, and traveling salesmen may register by mail.

Rep. Lee L. Simons, Louisville, fathered the perpetual registration law through the 1924 legislature. Gov. Fields approved the act on March 21. Rep. Simons was one of the democratic leaders in the house and has served since 1921.

The act itself is one of the most voluminous ones appearing in the printed acts issued by the attorney general. It comprises 20 pages.

Tiny Marksman

Pat McKinley believes in getting an early start in life. Pat, who is 22 months old, is a full-fledged marksman with membership in the Grand American Trapshooting Association. He journeyed with his parents from his home in Lansing, Mich., to Dayton, O., to look over the recent national trapshooting event. Pat hopes some day to be the clay pigeon champ.

KLAN ISSUE IN PRIMARY OF COLORADO

Two Candidates Non-Commital, One Anti-Klan. A QUIET CAMPAIGN

Colorado Citizens Will Meet Tomorrow to Choose Candidates for Big Race.

Associated Pres

DENVER, Colo. Sept 8—Colorado voters tomorrow will select candidates for all congressional, candidates for all congressional, state and legislative offices, after one of the quietest primary campaigns in the state's history

Lawrence C. Phipps, incumbent, has no opposition in the Republican primary for renomination to succeed himself in the United States Senate Alva B Adams, Democrat, who now is filling the unexpired term in the United States senate of the late Samuel D. Nicholson, has no opposition in the Democratic primary for the nomination for the seat now held by Senator Phipps. As a result, Colorado's present United States senators—Phipps and Adams—will oppose each other at the November election for Senator Phipps seat and one of them will retire from the Senate after the November election.

Three Republicans are contesting for United States senator to fill the Nicholson vacancy. They are Charles J Moynihan of Montrose, Charles W. Waterman of Denver and Rice W Means of Denver. Two Democrats are contesting in their own primary for the party nomination for Senator Nicholson's seat. They are Morrison Shafroth of Denver, a son of the late United States Senator John F. Shafroth, and Benjamin C Hilliard of Denver, who as a member of Congress during President Wilson's administration voted against the declaration of war with Germany.

William E. Sweet, Democrat, governor of Colorado has no opposition in the Democratic primary for renomination. In the Republican primary, Robert F. Rockwell of Paonia, now lieutenant governor, Clarence J. Morley, a judge of the Denver district court, and Earl Cooley, a member of the state land board, are contesting for the nomination for governor.

The Ku Klux Klan issue has entered into the campaign. Opponents of Mr. Means and Judge Morley have charged that they have the backing of the Klan. It also has been charged that Judge Morley and Mr. Means are members of the Klan. No public denials have been made by either Mr. Means or Judge Morley. Mr. Cooley, in announcing his candidacy for governor, made a bitter attack on the Klan, and has been making his campaign along the same lines

League Women Voters Making Drive

Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky, Sept. 8 — The National League of Women Voters has set for its goal securing the participation of at least 75 per cent of the eligible vote, Mrs. E. L. Hutchinson, president of the Kentucky league, said today.

"Kentucky had an enviable record in 1920," she said. "The Kentucky League of Women Voters wishes to place it in the front rank. We once led in the vision of ideal citizenship, being the first state to grant unqualified suffrage. Help Kentucky to regain her lost estate.

"It is the first duty of every citizen of a republic to vote, and to perform the necessary preparation to the performance of that duty by registering."

She made this statement in a letter sent to the precincts of all local men's luncheon clubs.

She called attention to the new registration law, relieving citizens of registering every year unless he changes his residence.

Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney and not properly signed by the trustee of the jury fund.

"The sheriff had kept no execution book and the clerical records of the county judge disclosed negligence and carelessness."

Uncle Sam Will Get You for Getting Another's Mail

That calling for and receiving mail intended for another person is a hazardous practice is indicated by a case before Federal Commissioner J. C. Rollins at Pineville this afternoon.

In this case according to postoffice officials, Mrs. Middie Alford, called at the general delivery window for and received a letter addressed to Mrs Matilda Alford. The letter contained a veteran's compensation check which never reached the addressee

A few days later the real addressee called for the letter and was informed that it had been delivered, presumably to her. The person to whom it had been delivered was interviewed by postal officials, they say and the woman regarded the matter lightly, doubtless not considering it a serious offense, and refused to give information regarding the disposal of it.

Postal Department Agents and also Department of Justice operatives were acquainted with the circumstances and they caused the arrest of the defendant. W. H. Burkes, postal clerk who delivered the letter to the woman, appears as a witness in the preliminary trial this afternoon.

The defendant is said to have told officers that she threw the letter off the bridge into the canal The compensation check has never been presented for payment.

Postmaster John M Miller and his assistants issue a solemn warning to the public against opening mail addressed to another person, even though such mail is put in their box by mistake

ARIZONIANS GO TO POLLS TUESDAY

State Primary to be Held Tomorrow—Three-cornered Race is of Interest.

Associated Press

PHOENIX, Ariz, Sept. 8—Twenty-seven candidates for state offices, exclusive of presidential electors, will seek to have their names placed upon the official ballot for the November election at an all-party primary in Arizona Tuesday, Sept. 9.

Only the Republican and Democratic tickets will have official representation on the primary ballot, there being no announced candidates for any state office on any other ticket

Chief interest in the primary centers in the gubernatorial contest, where a three-cornered fight is being waged among the Democrats and a two-cornered fight among the Republicans

The Democratic candidates are George W. P. Hunt, incumbent governor seeking re-election; Sidney P. Osborn, former secretary of state, and E. W. Samuell, former superintendent of state institutions. The Republican candidates are Dwight B. Heard, publisher of the Arizona Republican, and Thomas Maddock, former state engineer.

Miss Margaret East Made State Director

Miss Margaret L. East, Red Cross Nursing Field representative in West Virginia and Kentucky for three years has recently been appointed Director of Public Health Nursing for the State Board of Health of Kentucky. Miss East is well acquainted with the nursing problems of the state through her work with the Red Cross Chapters, and her new position is regarded as one of the most important nursing posts in the State.

Miss East has many friends in Middlesboro who will be glad to hear of her promotion. She was here recently to initiate Mrs. Eunice Morris, new Red Cross nurse, into her duties here.

No City Meeting

On account of the absence of Mayor J. H. Keeney from town, city commissioners met and adjourned this morning without transacting any business. The regular weekly meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

This is one of a series of addresses which the chief executive is making in the interest of the bond issue. He will speak at Pineville tomorrow night.

MAINE ELECTION TO BE PROPHETIC

Eyes of Nation on Gubernatorial Race—Klan Issue Is Paramount.

Associated Press

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8—The largest vote in the history of Maine is expected to be cast in today's biennial state election in which the contest for governor is waged largely.

The Klan issue overshadows all others in consideration. Officers of the Democratic state committee today predicted that William Pattangall, candidate for governor denounced the Klan, would carry off a plurality of 15,000 to 30,000 votes

The Republicans state committee predicted a victory by 25,000 to 40,000 for their candidate, Ralph Brewster, and recalled the proverb, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation." Democrats everywhere are watching results.

CHANG ARMY SWEEPING ON TO CAPITAL

Battle Front Chinese Civil War Is Expanding.

MILITARY RIVALS

New Front Created by Chang's Forces—Opposes General Fu—Fighting Continues.

Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8—Advances on all fronts particularly near Kiating in the Liuho section, was claimed tonight by the Langwha headquarters which is holding back the advance against Shanghai. The attack is directed against Chang Chow by the defenders who would permit the cutting of the railway near where the Klangsu forces are attacking Shanghai

Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Sept 8— Armies of the General Chang Tsolin, war lord of Manchuria, are sweeping toward Peking today against the forces of General Wu Pei Fu, his old military rival, creating a new front in China's civil war which heretofore has been fighting west of Shanghai between the rival military governors for the possession of the Gate City.

The latest military gesture of China's internal complications makes the territory between Mukden and Peking an armed camp of 1,000 miles away from Shanghai fighting. Before many hours, indications point toward a battle front 750 miles in length between Shanghai and Peking.

Appoint Third Member of State Board

FRANKFORT, Ky, Sept 8 — With two new members of the Board of Charities and Corrections appointed recently by Gov. Fields, a third appointment looms. There are eight members on the board.

Judge Robert H. Winn, of Mt Sterling has resigned as board member. No reason was assigned. He was appointed by former Governor Edwin P. Morrow and served the last four years

Miss Linda Neville, Lexington, and E. E Shannon of Louisa were appointed to succeed Fred M. Sackett, republican, Louisville, candidate for United States Senator, and Dr. S. H. Halley, Lexington, respectively. These latter two resigned.

Members are appointed for four year terms They meet every two weeks at one of the institutions, and have parole powers in the prisons. Attaches in the board's office here, headed by Joseph P. Byers, commissioner of public institutions, and B. T. Brewer, secretary, are powerless to act on any question without the members first assenting

ATTACK ON OIL INQUIRY MADE

Fall Lawyers Seek to Quash Proceedings—Nature Inquiry Is Not Revealed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—Attack on the government's new oil lease inquiry was made in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia today in behalf of Albert B Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, now under indictment.

Fall's lawyers are asking for a rule to show why the new proceedings should not be quashed They contended that they are merely on "a fishing expedition" and that they design to obtain evidence, not indictments.

The government's special oil lease counsel has never revealed the nature of the latest inquiry.

SUPT. OF RUSSELL APPEALS HIS CASE

Convicted Forgery in Lower Court —State Board Not to Interfere.

Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Sept. 8 — The State Board of Education has decided not to interfere with litigation in the courts.

In an order issued by McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction, and chairman, the board has refrained from passing finally on the case of B A Lawless, superintendent of Russell county schools, convicted of forgery in the lower court and now appealing to the higher court.

The board settling the first question of the kind ever to appear before it, recognized the legal right to appeal to the court of appeals and at the same time reserved the right to act on the case in event the appellate court also finds Lawless guilty.

The specific charge alleged the placing of a $648 check of the school funds to Lawless credit and using it. Lawless maintains he had no criminal intention, that his action was a mistake.

The county board has named Claude Harmon as Lawless' successor. In the order, the board, Prof. Rhoads, Mrs. Cromwell, secretary of state, and Attorney General Daugherty sitting, declined "at the present time to revoke" Lawless' certificate.

The board has solely jurisdiction to judge moral character, Prof. Rhoads says.

FEDERATION LABOR MEET OPENS TODAY

Senator Stanley Spoke to Delegates This Morning.

ENDORSES STANLEY

Delegates Wearing LaFollette-Wheeler Badges—Will Be In Session Until Wednesday.

Address of Senator A. O. Stanley was the outstanding feature of the annual convention of the Kentucky Federation of Labor which opened at the Booneway Inn at 10 o'clock this morning.

Senator Stanley's talk was non-political in nature. He briefly reviewed his record as United States Senator, came out strongly against child labor and spoke of injunctions in labor disputes, saying that the privilege was often abused. He spoke also of general conditions existing over the country.

At the close of his address which was greeted with loud and prolonged applause, the delegates accorded him a rising vote of thanks. A meeting will be held tonight at which time an organization will be perfected to support Senator Stanley for re-election to the United States Senate

The meeting was opened by William Turnblazer of the committee on arrangements and provisional president of District 19, United Mine Workers. Mr. Turnblazer introduced Commissioner J. E. Evans, acting mayor of Middlesboro during the absence of J. H. Keeney, who warmly welcomed the delegates to the city.

The convention was then turned over to Charles Gorman, president of the Kentucky Federation of Labor. He called for the report of the credential committee which announced that sixty-eight delegates had registered. With the exception of the appointment of committees, no business came before the convention this morning.

The following committees were appointed by the president:

Officers' Reports: William Turnblazer, Pat Gorman, Gus Wilkins, M. Grimmelson and W. L. Riley.

Resolutions: Max Krene, G. C. Shuler, Harry Hulsman and R. C. Owens.

Laws: W. D. Duncan, Ed Buchanan, Theo Englehart, William Goodall, Harry Carter and J. R. Cox Labels: William Egan, Mrs. Susie Greaver, Mrs. Fannie Hunts, Mrs. Lillian Herfel, J. M. Edmonds and Fred Weber.

Grievances: W. G. Sheen, Al Shields, John Hettle, Sam Butcher, and C. R. Atherton.

The meeting adjourned at noon and will resume convention business at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. This afternoon the delegates went on a pleasure trip to nearby pointsy of interest.

Important developments are expected tomorrow morning when a number of resolutions are expected to be offered for consideration.

While plitics have not entered into the convention, indications are thta the delegates will endorse Robert M. LaFollette for president, and Burton K. Wheeler for vice-president. A number of the delegates are wearing LaFollette-Wheeler badges and officers of the organization say it is not unlikely that the third party candidates will be endorsed.

Among the outstanding delegates at the convention are: President Gorman of Louisville, vice-presidents, W. D. Duncan, of Central City; W. J. Egan of Newport; Sam Paschal, William Goodhall and Edward Hunchman; also Pat Gorman, international president of the Butchers and Meat Cutters Union; William Turnblazer, president District 19; and Peter Campbell, secretary the Kentucky Federation of Labor.

Sessions will continue until Wednesday morning.

WILL SPEAK ON BOND ISSUE

Tomorrow afternoon as announced elsewhere, Gov. Fields will address a citizens meeting at the city hall on the bond issue. The meeting will be non-partisan in character and it is the duty of everyone to turn out and give the chief executive a representative gathering.

The issue that Gov. Fields will discuss is of vital interest to everyone in Kentucky and especially so to the people of this section. Eastern Kentucky has, in the major part, a system of roads little better than the primitive trails that Daniel Boone found established by the aboriginal inhabitants of this section. This locality is one of the richest sections of the state and instead of growling less rich will increase in property value for many years to come. Every citizen and every property owner has a vital interest in the measures that the governor sponsors.

Coming on one of the days of registration, the time is opportune for without registration one cannot vote on either the bond issue or on presidential, state or municipal matters.

The hour of the Governor's address is three o'clock.

Did You Register?

Editor Daily News:

Did you register today?

If not, why not?

You are not interested?

You forgot?

You were too busy?

What business could be of more importance to you than what kind of men are at the Nation's helm?

What could be of more concern to the men and women of this city, than the caliber of men that will be nominated for mayor and commissioners next year? You can not vote in either case, unless you register next Monday or Tuesday.

Citizens often complain about the candidates that have been nominated for offices in Middlesboro. Do they not realize that there will always be the kind of men selected, vote for at the primaries? If you do not register and vote you have no right to complain about the men nominated and elected to fill offices.

There is but one reason why this city is not the best governed in the state: So many of the best citizens are indifferent about going to the polls. A citizen who has no better excuse for not voting than "too busy," "forgot," "Not interested," should be disfranchised.

There is one more day to redeem your privileges. Register tomorrow.

TAX ASSESSMENT OF CORPORATIONS

Rehearing on Rates Took Place at Frankfort Yesterday—List of Assessments.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Sept. 8.—Rehearing of corporation representatives on tax rates continued before the state tax commission yesterday while experts in the tax department completed many final assessments, virtually all showing increases over last year's assessments.

Companies finally assessed within the last few days, Ben Marshall, secretary, announced, with the franchise established:

Danville Light & Power Company, $123,700 against $69,315 last year; Citizens Lighting Company, Vine Grove, no franchise, total capital, $4,687, sold to Kentucky Utilities Company: Carlisle Electric Light and Power Company, Carlisle $20,000 against $7,800 last year; The Stanford Water Light and Ice Company, Stanford, $45,000 against $23,245 last year.

Louisa & Fort Gay Bridge Company, Louisa, Ky., $45,298 against $30,000 last year; Sturgis Electric Light Company, Sturgis, $59,875 against $33,500 last year: Bracken County Telephone Company, $18,750 against $16,000 last year: Rockcastle River Railway Company, Bond, $19,494; Auburn Woodburn Electric Company, Auburn, $24,700; J. R. Neeley Ferry, Burksville, no value.

Rockland Telephone Company, Bowling Green, $600, against $250 last year; Semet Solway Company Syracuse, New York, $3,365 against $3,998 last year; Grayson county Telephone Company, Lietchfield, $5,015: Ohio and Kentucky Railroad Company, Camel City, real estate, $183,250.00.

American Surety Company of New York City, $385,861 against $244,445.00 last year; Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, Baltimore, $465,500 against $256,750; Evona Telephone Company, Frankfort, capital, $55,900 against $25,000 last year; Duke and Baldwin Ferry, Iuka, Ky., $1,000.

In certain cases where the franchises are less than last year, the difference is taken care of in the increased valuation of property, Mr. Marshall said.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

Washington — Great Britain took one step toward international disarmament when Representative Tom Connally of Marlin, Tex., arrived in England a few weeks back.

Tom being Texas born and bred wears, as an essential part of his wardrobe, a shooting iron. Without a gun he feels only half clothed. A real Texan, like Tom will go without collar or tie, even without a shirt, and feel more dressed up than he will without his gun.

Tom tried to do the decent thing, though, when he started for Europe as a member of the House select committee investigating Shipping Board affairs.

Just as he realized a Texan sombrero and boots would make him unduly conspicuous and weren't in good taste for a Congressional tour abroad, so he realized, too, that to wear his regulation Texas 45 six-shooter was a trifle too much like luring heavy artillery.

Solely out of consideration for the proprieties, then Tom buys himself a nice, genteel, but business like 27 Colt automatic. And he sails away for Europe on the good ship George Washington.

But on arriving at Liverpool his majesty's customs representatives strike their heads, guns, they opine even nice, gentlemanly guns such as that belonging to the gentleman from Texas may not be brought ashore. They not only are not in style, but they're forbidden.

He can neither wear it ashore nor send it ashore with his luggage. The gentleman may land, but he must leave his gun behind. After fevered but futile protests, Connally surrendered. He gave the gun to the ship's purser, with instructions to take it back to the states on the return trip.

Then, blushingly, feeling almost like he was clad only in his B. V. D's, Texas Tom Connally, without his gun in a strange land descended the gang plank to face the British taxi robbers.

If labor has a sense of humor it must be getting one big smile out of the attention it is receiving just now from the presidential camps.

The Labor Day proclamation by Coolidge, Davis and LaFollette were only an incident in the efforts of the presidential aspirants to lure the labor vote.

No one objective in the campaign of any of the candidates looms larger than that of capturing the vote of the nation's workers.

The effort to offset the endorsement of LaFollette by the American Federation of Labor, and to make it appear that this endorsement does not carry the approval of the rank and file of labor voters, is recognized as the biggest, single undertaking the Republicans and Democrats face as the campaign gets under way.

Just how seriously this labor situation is regarded may be sensed from the steps taken to provide a pilgrimage of "labor leaders" to the White House on Labor Day.

President Coolidge received this delegation, headed by T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the Shipping Board and delivered to them a speech setting forth his views on the condition of labor.

Next day Democratic leaders, seeking to block any advantage the Republicans hoped to achieve through the visit of labor representatives to the White House, charged that the "labor leaders" who listened to Coolidge were in a large part, like O'Connor, who draws a $12,000 salary from the government, now in government employ in various capacities, and that their trip to Washington, instead of being a spontaneous pilgrimage to the Coolidge shrine, had been arranged for by party managers and financed through channels interested in Republican success.

Chairman Butler denies he authorized the "labor" expedition, but the Dems insist that it was nevertheless, largely paid for out of the national committee's campaign chest.

Radio Bugs of Middlesboro Seek Organization of Club

Organization of a radio club for Middlesboro will take place in the near future. A meeting at which tentative plans for the club were made was held at the Motch Motor company late Saturday afternoon and an organization meetin when officers will be named will be held at the garage at 7:30 Monday night, September 15.

Purposes of the club will be elimination of extraneous interferences such as are produced by high frequency electrical broadcasting mediums, a general cooperation of all local radio users for the mutual benefit of all and the formation of a body which can at all times be able to give out authentic data to radio users.

It has been pointed out that in interference here is frequently caused by leakage of electrical wires, X-ray machines and amateur sending sets, The lattter has not caused a great deal of trouble yet but with the development of the fascinating indoor amusement may cause interference.

There are innumerable ways in which the club can work for the common good of all Middlesboro radio fans. The organization can keep in touch with similar clubs in larger cities and learn how they handle their more complex problems. It can become a member of the national radio club and receive benefits therefrom.

It is thought that a hundred or more local radio "bugs" will become members of the club so that an element of brotherhood may be established between them and that they may receive the benefits of such membership. Advent of cool weather is a signal that the real radio season of the year is approaching and interest in wireless is increasing daily.

All interested in radio whether or not they now own sets are cordially invited to attend and take part in the organization meeting.

SAYS REPORTS OF RENO ARE FALSE

Divorces Not Easy to Obtain In Progreso, Mexico, Latest Information.

Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 8.—A report that Progreso, Mexico, has become a Mexican El Reno, and that divorces are easy to obtain on almost any grounds after 30 days residence, has become so widespread that the agents of a Galveston steamship line, whose ships touch at Progreso, have been besieged with requests for passage to that port.

Hermenegildo Valdes, Mexican consul at Houston, however, is not sure that the information is accurate. Generally speaking Mr. Valdes said, divorces are governed by a federal statute passed in 1917, which requires a residence of approximately one year for the divorce petitioner.

"He must," Mr. Valdes added "have good grounds for his action and must be prepared to submit proof of the allegations in his petition. In other words, the machinery for obtaining divorces in Mexico is much like it is in the United States."

More than 100 inquiries for passage to Progreso, one of them from California, have been received at the Galveston steamship offices.

HIGH TAX HELPS LIMIT INDUSTRY

Match Business in Germany Being Hard Hit With Exhorbitant Taxes.

Associated Press.

PFUNGSTADT, Germany, Sept. 8.—Germany's match industry has been hard hit by the lack of credits and high taxes. Because of these one of the largest match factories in the country was sold recently to interests representing the Swedish American combine. The German tax regulations require that the internal taxes on matches must be paid two weeks after the product has been placed on the market.

Many manufacturers contend that it is virtually impossible to carry on business under the present conditions when credits are so difficult to obtain. The result, according to the factory owners is that every match factory in Germany is working on part time or has closed.

They say foreign capital has endeavored to take advantage of the situation and obtain a foothold in the industry wen match factories and their property may be purchased at what many persons consider "bargain rates."

Says Premier's Blood Too Valuable to Sell

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 8.—The coat of an Egyptian policeman, stained with the blood of Zaglou Pasha, prime minister, is too valuable to be sold, in the opinion of the officer. The latter's cont became smeared recently when an attempt was made on the premier's life and the officer rushed to his assistance.

At the hospital the bluecoat was offered $500 for the stained garment, but he declared the leader's blood was too valuable to be sold. He said he intended to present the cont to the house of the nation.

CORBIN IS SUED

CORBIN, Sept. 8.—The City Board of Education has sued the City of Corbin for the purpose of testing the right of the latter to reject the report of the Board of Supervisors on the city assessment. The complainant desires that the defendant revises the assessment so that more bonds may be sold for the coonstruction of additional school buildings.

COAL BUSINESS BETTER

HARLAN, Sept. 8.—Report of the Harlan County Coal Operastors Association shows an increase in the quantity of coal produced in the county during the past week. A number of the larger mines have opened and are running full time. The production for last week was 115,560 tons as against 187,616 tons full time capacity. The net tons below the normal full time production was 72,056 tons. There was no car shortage but 60,562 tons were short on account of lack of market. Mine disability accounted for 10,296 tons and labor shortage for 1,108.

FAIR SUCCESSFUL

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Laurel County fair for 1924, will be remembered for the great mule races and especially the last two days when they were equally as hotly contested as any horse race you ever saw. The running races also had some of the fastest horses that were ever on the local track.

There were a number of fine show horses here from Central Kentucky and the competition was keen in all of these events as well as those in which entries were limited to Laurel county.

BELL CO. MAN BANKRUPT

COVINGTON, Sept. 8.—Rosaris Fruci, Middlesboro restaurant proprietor, was made the defendant in an involuntary bankruptcy suit. The complainants whose claims aggregated $1,166 were the Jellico Grocery Co., the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., and Mrs. Emily White, all of Middlesboro.

VIRGINIA

GOOD NORTON BAND

NORTON, Va., Sept. 8—Norton now has a band that may perform creditably at any community enterprise or on any public occasion. Director S. T. Witt has been working on the band for several years and, by deleting hopeless students and encouraging those of promise, he now has a musical aggregation that compares well with any town of this size.

ROAD CLOSED

BIG STONE GAP, Va., Sept. 8—Order has been given to close the road between here and Norton while construction is in progress. Waiting traffic is allowed to pass at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 4 p. m.

LURE OF CARNIVAL

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 8—With a heavy heart and many tearful protests that he was able to make a good living washing dishes in a carnival cook. Willie Newberry, 14, of Altoon, Pa., was led from juvenile court today by his father and started on his way home.

Since last June, Willie has looked forward with horror to the opening of the full term of school. A few weeks ago when a carnival show came to Altoon, Willie ran away from home. Later he was captured at Lewistown, Pa., then he ran away again.

Suspecting that the boy had followed the carnival show, the father of the lad went to Sailsbury, Md., and then came to Norfolk. With a detective he went to various concessions and finally found his son washing dishes and greatly enjoying life under the direction of a negro cook.

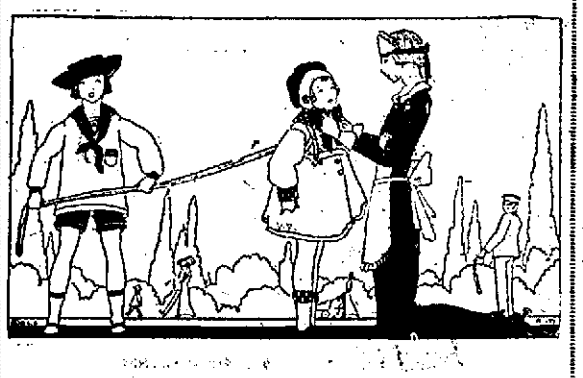
It Happens Every Day



When the days begin to get warm and long and five-year-old Dick and three-year-old Peggy become unusually active and begin to play in the early morning, before you and your husband are up, and they keep at it hard most of the day—

And when you sit on the front porch and try to cool off and at the same time try to keep an eye on the young ideas, you get about as much rest as a traffic policeman—

And when Mrs. Banks calls up and asks you to go for a ride, you have to say, "No, thank you, I must stay with the children this afternoon"—

And then one day you make up your mind that this can't go on and you phone a Help Wanted Ad to the Middlesboro Daily News—

And the next day you select a neat, intelligent girl from the dozen who called about the position and you turn over the children's hot weather manuevers to her—

AGRICULTURE IS MOST IMPORTANT

Biggest Single Business in Kentucky, Ivan Barnes Says Today.

FRANKFORT, Sept. —The biggest single business in Ketucky is agriculture, G. Ivan Barnes, director of Vocational Education, said today, formally opening the year's work of the state's vocational work in a statement defining "certain administrative responsibilities."

"The main purpose in the cooperative arrangement between the state and local authorities is to train young men to become more efficient farmers," he said. "Better soils, beter live stock, efficiency in production are necessary to the prosperity of our state. There are almost as many farmers as there are all other persons employed in other gainful occupations in the state."

He said the federal vocational act is limited to a check by the federal government of only the honesty of his department in disposing of funds; that the state department formulates all plans; the federal board approves; and that the responsibility then is up to the local boards for carrying out the program.

His statement in part:

"The state board appreciates the cordial relation that always has existed, and offers the services of its supervisors to local authorities in that the most may be accomplished for the community.

"Neither the state board nor myself desire to interfere with local affairs. According to the state plans and contract their activities are confined to those strictly germane to the progress of agricultural development. There is no such thing as a federalized high school or a Smith-Hughes high school, or an agricultural teacher being under the supervision of the federal government. His employment, tenure of service and compensation are fixed by local authorities. He is responsible to them.

"The federal act respects the atonomy of the state, and in turn the state likewise respects local organization, control, responsibility and government.

"According to the state and federal acts, and the state plans the state board is privileged to draw contracts with local boards of education for the teaching of agriculture in their schools."

Bank Pay Increased.

BERLIN, Sept. —Salaries of bank employes throughout Germany are to be increased ten percent. This is the result of a decree by a court of arbitration in the Reich's department of labor.

FARTHEST NORTH FISHING PLANNED

Soviet Russia to Develop Industry As Food Supply for the Country.

ARCHANGEL, Russia, Sept. Soviet Russia has made strenuous efforts this summer to develop her sea fisheries as a source of food supply, and in this connection, it was announced recently, new fishing grounds have been discovered off Jugurski Schar in Arctic waters adjacent to Russia. The new fishing banks were located quite by accident.

It was during a cruise of the It was during a cruise of the steamship Malygin, of 1,500 tons, with Russian scientists aboard, who were doing research work for the purpose of studying matters pertaining to the biological, hydrographical and meteorological problems of the Polar regions that great schools of fish were encountered. Further investigations in the same waters, off Jugurski Schar, revealed that the fish made their "homes" there in great numbers. This is said to be the most northerly fishing banks in the world.

There are indications, not only on the Archangel coast, but in Northern Norway as well, that the Russian interests are going in for deep sea fishing on a much larger scale than at any time since the revolution. Formerly the "Russian trade" was a main feature of such Norwegian towns as Vardo and Hammerfest. As far back as the fifteenth century the Pomors fished and traded along the Norwegian coast. Gradually in the eighteenth century the fishing passed into Norwegian hands, the Russians confining their attention to the purchase and shipping of the catches. In the five years ending in 1912, more than 140,000 tons were thus purchased, much of this going to England. With the war and the revolution this trade vanished, but now Russia has begun to buy fishing craft in Norway with which to catch her own fish, thus bringing about a great saving for the Russian people.

WOMAN DROWNS IN OPEN STREET HOLE

Isaac Marcosson, Saturday Evening Post Writer, Fell Into One Hole.

Associated Press

MOSCOW, Sept. American asphalt and paving concerns would make a fortune in Moscow if they could induce the Soviet government to give them the job of repairing the thousands of streets in the Red capital that are rutted and broken. Most of the streets are paved with cobblestones that make walking a positive discomfort. Only one or two of the principal streets are laid with asphalt.

Pedestrians experience not only discomfort and inconvenience through having to use the broken roadways, but often positive injuries as well. Not long ago a Russian woman fell into an open excavation in one of the principal streets and was drowned in the water that had collected.

During his recent visit here Isaac F. Marcosson, the American writer, fell into an opening in the side walk and suffered painful injuries about the face, arms and legs. He was returning from an interview with Leon Trotzky, the Soviet War Minister.

Swiss Has Record for Exports Fruits, Nuts

Associated Press

ZURICH, Switzerland, Sept. —Fruits from the Swiss valleys have been exported this year on a larger scale than in any other period. Many of these shipments have gone to Germany where there is a big demand for fruits of all kinds, and where the Swiss exporters found a ready sale for much of their produce now that the renten mark has replaced the worthless paper currency.

According to provisional estimates compiled here Switzerland this year will have an excess of about 16,000 car loads of cider fruit, 8,000 cars of eating apples, 10,000 tons of plums and 1,500 tons of walnuts for exportation. Paris and London as usual took a large share of the Swiss fruit crop.

Price of Eggs Going Up Bulletin States

LOUISVILLE, Sept. The price of eggs is going up, says a bulletin of the Jefferson County Farm Bureau, issued this week.

Rules for the producer of market eggs to increase profits from the farm flock are given:

Market eggs at least twice a week; do not wash eggs; consume all small and dirty eggs at home; good rations produce good, large eggs.

State Dairymen Plan Greater Co-operation

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. During the last few weeks dairymen from seven counties in Kentucky held meetings to plan organization of a milk bargaining association, Cleil Coleman, commissioner of agriculture, said today. He added:

"With assistance of the marketing division of the Kentucky College of Agriculture, the Louisville Milk Producers Association was born. Farm bureaus of twelve counties aided. The plan to be used by the association is known as the Philadelphia Plan, used successively in eastern cities."

Australian Fruit Growers to Ask Aid

Associated Press

MELBOURNE, Sept. 8—The Australian dried fruits industry is in a grave position, due to competition from California and from cheap labor countries and to the rejection of Imperial preference by the British government. This summary of the situation was submitted to Prime Minister Bruce by a deputation for the fruit districts. The growers asked immediate financial assistance."

The government promised to hold a special cabinet conclave to find a permanent solution. Growers are a little more hopeful than they have been, as farmer members in the Federal Parliament are pushing their cause forward.

Wild Birds as Wet Weather Prophets

Associated Press

VISALIA, Cal., Sept. A wet winter, greatly needed through California, is predicted by many of the weather wise in the San Joaquin valley, who base their belief on the fact that great flocks of pelicans have paid an unaccustomed visit inland, and that the quail have nested twice in one season.

This summer the quail mated early and again later, bringing forth two families. They will not do this, the wise men assert, unless their instinct tells them there will be plenty of feed for the young next season.

EARTH MAGIC

Fernando's eyes stare past you gray as rain,
His body's limber as a bough and straight!
You speak to him, he never seems to hear,
And then he answers you a minute late.
His gift—his father had the trick
before him—
Makes him a person in the country-side.
Give him a forked stick, cherry or sweet apple,
And he can show you where ground waters hide.
He larches over our green hills and holds
A fresh branch in his grimy, vise-shut fists,
The fork straight up until the water's near.
Then in his grasp its very fiber twists.
The high point swoops—Fernando
stops and waits,
Turns his stick up again and holds
it fast!
And when it answers to the water's call,
He nods and grins his weasel grin at last.
"Your spring's right here," he says, "some eight foot down,
I make it, though. I ain't so good on knowin'
The depths as father. He could always tell,
But you dig here, and keep right on a-goin'."
Magic so old, so simple, and so strange!
To be the medium between a spring
Deep underground and a bough's love of it—
Truth has sometimes an odd and pagan ring.
And why Fernando? Scarce articulate
As brooks and windy branches, one with these
He speaks an older language when he tells
The secrets he and earth know and the trees.

East-Richards Wedding

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred at 10 o'clock yesterday morning when Miss Della Richards became the bride of Mr. J. H. East of St. Louis. The ceremony was performed at the home of the Rev. J. H. Moore in Harrogate, the Rev. Moore officiating. About forty friends of the couple witnessed the service.

The Moore house was attractively decorated in asparagus, fern and early fall flowers. The stairway down which the bride came was twined with the fern, white clematics and white ribbon bows, and the mantel before which the ceremony was performed was banked in the fern and white asters, with a large basket of dahlias on each side.

The ceremony began at 10 o'clock with two beautiful songs by Miss Ruth Moore, "I For You, and You For Me," and "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Maddox. Mrs. Maddox then played Lohengrin's Wedding March as a processional. The Rev. Moore, followed by the bridegroom and his best man, Warren Rush, entered from the library and took their places before the improvised altar. They were joined by the bride who was preceded down the stairway by her maid of honor, Miss Margaret Gunn. Miss Richards was very lovely in a dark blue traveling dress of charmeen, trimmed in leopard fur and bright-colored wool flowers. Her hat was black velvet and lace and she carried a gorgeous bride's bouquet of white roses. Miss Gunn wore a beautiful brown costume and carried a large bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony, when the young couple had received the congratulations of their friends, they drove to Middlesboro and took the train for Louisville. From there they will go for a boat ride up the Ohio River to be followed by two weeks at a camp in the Ozarks. They will be at home in St. Louis after the first of October.

Mrs. East first came to Middlesboro just three years ago, in September, 1921, to become advertising manager of the Middlesboro Daily News. With the exception of three months spent in Knoxville on the Sentinel she held that position until April of this year when went to Harlan to accept a similar position on the Harlan American. During her stay in Middlesboro her attractive personality made her many friends who join in wishing her the happiest of married lives.

Mrs. East is a graduate of Drury College, Springfield, Mo., and of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Mr. East is also a graduate of the University of Missouri.

Tamer-Jacobs Wedding

Miss Fannie Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs, and Mr. Herbert Tamer, both of Middlesboro, were married at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the St. Julian church, Father William Geles officiating. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tamer, of Harlan, were out of town guests at the wedding. After the ceremony the couple left for Cincinnati and other points where they will spend their honeymoon. They are expected to return to Middlesboro during the latter part of this week.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. H. Latiff, assisted by Mrs. Sam Latiff, entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs at their home on Cumberland avenue: Guests were: Mr and Mrs. J. H. Tamer, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tamer, of Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs, Albert Elmore and Charlie Eckrosh.

Epworth League Meets Tonight

VETERAN SCORES PACIFIST MOVE

Commander Spanish War Veterans Approves Defense Day in Report.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Sept. 8.—Hearty co-operation in the public test of National Defense Day, September 12 was asked today of the United Spanish American War veterans in 26th national encampment by their Commander-in Chief, Albert D. Alcorn, of Cincinnati, in the course of the reading of his annual report.

He scored the "certain pacifist organizations" for trying to make a political act out of the presidential order which designated September 12th as the date on which the feasibility of the defense policy of the country is to be carried out.

"They raved as if our country were walking in armour, rattling the saber and threatening the peace of the world," Commander Alcorn said.

Approbation of Kentucky's plan to give full credit to the day was sounded. Gov. Fields' recent proclamation furthering Kentucky's Defense Day and Adj. General Jas. A. Kehoe's plans to have a full turnout of the Kentucky National Guard were held up as an exemplary example of "true patriotism."

The veterans were urged to avoid factions. It was recommended that the legislative committee renew its efforts to have enacted a law providing a just and equitable pension for all veterans. Commander Alcorn said there was a discrimination against the Spanish American veterans in that they were not granted equal opportunity in respect to land grants, pensions, and the like.

Withdrawal of approval of the proposed War Mothers' Memorial hospital to cost $100,000,000 in the shape of a tubercular hospital was asked by the commander. He said he thought the organization should not become further entangled in the project, although the national encampment at Los Angeles, in 1922, endorsed the project after it was reintroduced following its defeat on it sinitial appearance.

Among other recommendations in the report were;

General recruiting drive: continued activity on the part of the Spanish American veterans in urging congressmen to support two bills affecting them; addition of the word National to Commander-in-Chief for an enactment suspending members indicted for crime, urging that honorary membership be not indiscriminately conferred; official recognition of half size badges and jewels; establishment of permanent headquarters for supplies; keeping camp records to show place for burial of deceased comrades; amending law giving service medals to veterans so that a Spanish War veteran may receive medal for any service within war period; and adoption of sleeve band with U. S. W. V. in gray on blue background.

LUNG TROUBLE VICTIM REPORTS RAPID IMPROVEMENT IN 28 DAYS

After suffering the miseries of lung weakness and catarrhal trouble for seven years, Charles Blevins of Denver, Colorado, reports gaining 9 pounds in 28 days, after following a simple treatment at home.

"I have made great improvement already," he says, "and am convinced that my wonderful change has been brought about by this method. My weight had previously dropped from 150 pounds to 130. I was cold and chilly all the time and my sleep broken by constant coughing. After commencing the Heilol treatment, my cough has now almost entirely stopped. I sleep better and wake refreshed every morning. I eat most any kind of food and feel warmed up all over."

This method praised so highly by Mr. Blevins was discovered at the University of Vienna, and only recently brought to America. Many gratifying results have already been reported from its use even in seemingly stubborn cases of lung trouble where other treatments and methods tried had failed. Physicians have used it with reported success, and one physician makes this statement about it. He says, "Relief is often noted even during the early stages of treatment."

Anyone suffering from weak lungs, feverishness, pains in the chest, sunken, sallow cheeks, blue lips, cold hands and feet, tired feeling, bowel disorder, indigestion, or loss of health, strength and vigor, may now test this effective treatment without risking any money. If you are interested, write the General Remedies Co., 399 Loop Bldg., Denver, Colo., and tell your friends ito write, also. The details of this generous offer will then be sent you immediately.
